

PRESS RELEASE

Dirk Krause joins PROMOS consult

- Krause is taking on the role of Head of Business Development and Partner Management at PROMOS and will be responsible for the business development of EXAD, the software for company-specific consumption billing
- Further development and expansion of infrastructure and services for PROMOS and SAP customers who want to design the settlement of consumption-based building ancillary costs individually for their company

Berlin, 17th September 2020 – Since 1 August 2020, Dirk Krause has been working as Head of Business Development and Partner Management, where he is responsible for the advancement and positioning of EXAD, the software for heating and consumption cost statements. PROMOS consult, the software specialist for the real estate business, added EXAD to its product portfolio last year and has been continuing to develop it rapidly ever since. The integration of the software into the easysquare networking platform has resulted in an efficient and highly integrated solution and offers real estate companies the option to design company-specific heating and consumption cost statements together with service partners or independently.

Krause is a recognised expert in his field. Over the past 24 years, he has held various roles for the real estate service provider Bautec Energiemanagement GmbH. Among other things, while working in international product management for Aareon Deutschland GmbH, he was responsible for "Aareon energy management", which has at its core ERP-integrated billing with automated consumption data determination.

Speaking about the welcome addition to his team, Jens Kramer, CEO of PROMOS consult, stated: "With the recruitment of Dirk Krause, we are extremely pleased to have gained a qualified expert in billing and IT for our company. He has many years of experience in the real estate industry and brings with him extensive expertise for the advancement and market positioning of our consumption billing software."

Krause, too, is enthusiastic about his important new tasks: "First of all, I am very much looking forward to implementing this exciting business area within PROMOS. With EXAD, PROMOS now has all the necessary components within the company and is in a position to be able to offer a solution for revolutionary utilities cost management tailored to the housing industry. With my expertise in billing services and IT, I want to help drive forward the success of this product and contribute to making numerous customers happy."
